Best Time to Go on a Chardham Yatra

The best time to go on a Chardham Yatra is in May & June and September & October. Here's a quick overview:

Peak Season

Pre-Monsoon Period (May & June): This period offers pleasant and mild weather with temperatures swinging in the range of 5°C-20°C. It's perfect for temple tours, outdoor activities, sightseeing, etc.

Post-Monsoon Period (September & October): You get calm and serene surroundings as the crowd is less during this time. On top of that, you are greeted with picturesque lush greenery, fresh off the monsoon rains. A plunge in the hotel booking price is another perk.

Avoidable Periods

Monsoon Season (July & August): Travelling during this period is not advised. You'll frequently witness heavy rainfalls, road blockages, and slippery roads. Moreover, there's also a high chance of flooding and landslides. We completely advise against booking a tour package for Chardham in this period.

Winter Season (November to April): There's heavy snowfall and temperatures drop to sub-zero ranges - because of this, the shrines are closed and therefore Chardham Yatra is not possible during this period.

Cost of Chardham Yatra Packages

The cost of Chardham Yatra Packages depends on a lot of factors, like duration, inclusions, package type, budget, etc. However, on average, our Chardham tour prices range as follows:

Chardham Tour Package (without helicopter): INR 24,000 to INR 45,000

Chardham Yatra Packages with Helicopter: INR 2,20,000 to INR 2,35,000

Why Go on the Chardham Yatra?

You should go on a Char Dham journey as it's a highly sacred trip. The Char Dham Yatra is believed to grant Moksha, that is, salvation from the cycle of birth and death. The pilgrimage also cleanses your sins and purifies your soul. By coming here, you can enjoy the stunning views of the Himalayan valleys and snow-clad mountains as well. In addition, you get to explore nature, culture, and centuries-old traditions!

Just in 2023, over 6 crore people travelled to Uttarakhand in a quest to complete their Char Dham Yatra, as stated by TOI!

Here are a few more reasons you should undertake this tour:

The shrines have opened their doors in April.

Road conditions and accommodations have vastly improved.

Helicopter and VIP Darshan services offer high comfort.

The journey is more sustainable now, owing to the adoption of eco-friendly practices.

What Places are Covered in the Chardham Travel Package?

Here's a quick overview of the main places that will be covered in this tour:

Yamunotri- This is the origin of the Yamuna River. Pilgrims have to trek or take a pony ride to reach the shrine.

Gangotri- This is dedicated to Goddess Ganga and shrine impresses the devotees with the views of the snow-clad peaks.

Kedarnath- This Jyotirlinga temple is dedicated to Lord Shiva. It is accessible by trek or helicopter.

Badrinath- Located near the Indo-Tibetan border, this shrine is dedicated to Lord Vishnu. Each Dham not only provides spiritual peace but also breathtaking views of landscapes that mesmerize every visitor.

Starting Points & Travel Modes

The Chardham journey typically starts from Delhi, Haridwar, or Dehradun and then takes the clockwise route starting from Yamunotri and ends at Badrinath. The Yatra usually lasts from 9 to 11 days.

To make your tour flexible, we offer pilgrimages with different starting points. In order to ensure comfort for all Yatris, we offer our travel solutions from the following cities:

Popular Starting Points:

Delhi: This is ideal for pilgrims in North India. It's suitable for undertaking full tour by road or train.

Haridwar/Rishikesh: These serve as a spiritual gateway to the sacred sites with numerous fixed departures.

Dehradun: It's best for Chardham Yatra by helicopter and quick-access tours.

Mumbai/Kolkata/Chennai: These are suitable for pan-India travellers with air/train extensions.

Travel Modes:

By Road: You get to enjoy scenic journeys with stopovers for sightseeing. Our Chardham road packages are ideal for this route.

By Helicopter: It is very time-saving and comfortable; best for elderly travellers.

Combination Tours: This plan includes both driving and flying options to suit a variety of preferences.
